

WID in a Virtual World SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES 2021-2022

WOMEN IN DEVELOPMENT

Women In Development \(WID\), New York is a membership organization to empower, connect, and engage women in a community that fosters professional growth. We boast a diverse representation of executives, consultants, and organization types in the greater New York area including higher education, healthcare, arts and culture, social and community services, primary and secondary education, and youth development. Our reach goes beyond an audience of 6,000 through events, workshops, and digital communications.

On the heels of hosting our first ever WID Virtual Forum, WID continues to fulfill its mission with impactful programs that foster professional growth and leadership while advancing the field. Programs include webinars, workshops, and interviews such as Women Who Lead, which highlights prominent philanthropists and fundraisers in our sector; Deconstructing Development, a special series giving the fundraising community direct access to experts in areas important to achieving professional success; and Resume Reboot where our listserv can access skillful advice to stand out from the crowd.
